Dear Stan:

Just a note to thank you for taking the time to talk with our students. It is so important for these young intelligence officers to develop an enthusiastic respect for the top people in the field, and your chalkboard talk just hit the spot. It came at a time when I have been going over with the students precisely the same kinds of calculations using only a slightly different exposition. * They now all want to see the Draft NIE 11 3/8 to track through the details of the calculations. I told them I thought this was impossible but perhaps not. After all, where else could you get a fully cleared, fully discrete academic review of the calculations.

Personally, it was great seeing you again.

Best wishes,

PATRICK J. PARKER
